

POINT DOUGLAS NEIGHBOURHOOD PLAN

Help shape the future of Point Douglas

We're in Phase 2 of engagement for the Point Douglas Neighbourhood Plan. What we heard in Phase 1, along with technical analysis, helped create the draft plan — and now we're excited to share it with you and hear what you think.

The plan is about supporting the community's future — keeping what people love about the area and making space for positive change. It will help guide how land is used and developed over time.

Join us at a family-friendly event to review the draft plan and share your feedback.

POINT DOUGLAS NEIGHBOURHOOD PLAN

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What area is included in the neighbourhood plan?

What is a neighbourhood plan?

A neighbourhood plan — also called a secondary plan — is a by-law that sets a long-term vision for a specific area. It includes policies that guide land use and development decisions.

Once adopted by Council, all development in the plan area must follow the neighbourhood plan.

Community feedback helps shape what goes into the plan — your voice matters.

What is included in the plan?

The plan includes a vision, goals, and policies to guide how land is used and developed over time. This include rules about where new buildings can be built and what they should look like. It covers topics like housing, getting around, parks, local history, and local business opportunities.

How will my feedback be used?

Your feedback will help us improve the draft plan. We'll consider what we hear, make revisions, and submit the updated plan to Council for review this fall.
